Re: Queen's Park Trucker Convoy and other protests - (February 2022)

Overview

Multiple planned protests occurring in the downtown and surrounding areas during February 4 to February 6, 2022 may negatively affect the Metrolinx transit system. Toronto Police will be standing up their Major Incident Command Centre (MICC) on the morning of February 4, 2022 for stakeholders to share and receive information. CPS Investigations and Emergency Management will have members virtually attending the MICC 24hrs a day for the entire weekend.

These events are receiving strong online support and it is anticipated that there will be a high volume of participants, however no estimate regarding the numbers of attendees has been shared.

officialphatfarmcarmeets This far the turnouts across the country have been absolutely phenomenal and I expect that same beautiful energy to continue in Ottawa/Toronto however it is important that we do not lose steam with this movement and allow something like what happened to our neighbours down south.

Under no circumstances can allow this movement to be tainted. Under no circumstances should violence be used when in Toronto. We do NOT want this to be used as ammunition against our movement. Be careful, be safe, be Canadian ca

Potential Operational Impact

The event is to be meeting at the locations at 1000 hrs. The locations are spread throughout the GTA and are along or nearby many GO Bus Routes.

The event is to progress from the 7 identified meeting locations and move to either Queen's Park or alternately Nathan Phillips Square in the downtown core.

At least 3 Terminals that GO Buses service could potentially be impacted:

- Yorkdale
- Square One
- Scarborough Town Centre

Operationally, traffic related delays could be expected for GO Bus operations into and out of the downtown between 1000-1200 hrs on surface routes.

The group is to meet at Queen's Park/Nathan Phillips Square at 1200 hrs. The event may continue to cause traffic delays in the core during this time and extending until any crowds/traffic disperse.

IMPORTANT* For the Convoy Coming to Toronto

Housekeeping!

Be nice to the Police Officers - be courteous. Offer them a water bottle if you have extra!

Clean up after yourself - find trash cans and let's keep our cities and country clean.

And most important of all - STAY SAFE! If you see something illegal happening, take pics/video and report to local police who are on the grounds. Please do not engage or encourage any acts of violence - this is a peaceful protest.

Thank you for all you are doing - we are stronger unified together than apart.

Looks like they are "planning" on clearing Hospital Row clear

Carly Wentworth

Is there a plan in place to keep the hospital block (just south of Queen's Park) clear of protestors? It's important both ethically (so that the hospitals remain accessible) and so that this protest doesn't backfire on us politically.

Share 20h

Heather Davidson

Carly Wentworth just spoke about this in the zello chat, all areas around hospitals will be clear of protestors and lanes will be left clear for emergency vehicles

Carly Wentworth exactly! We are planning for the convoy to stay north of college street and going around queens park. We will not be blocking emergency vehicles and will be staying clear of all hospitals!!!

Same rules apply. Let's keep this peaceful, and remember why we're doing this.

Freedom Convoy 2022

January 28 at 2:13 PM · 🌐

We cannot stress enough how important it is for everyone to do the following:

1. DO NOT enter any government building or government property under any circumstances.
2. Treat all police officers with respect. Front line police officers are already under significant pressure from powerful politicized individuals and local politicians. They are our fellow Canadians, and the police in regions like Peel defended us when they refused to enforce Doug Ford's draconian Covid restrictions on citizens last year. Please do not put front line officers in a difficult position. Always be respectful, even if they issue you a citation. Just know that most of them are doing so under duress.

3. Keep calm. If you see individuals attempting to bait other truckers and attendees into conflict, report them to the police and our staff, or look to others around you to help with de-escalation. Sometimes it merely requires one calm head in a group to temper us all. Don't hesitate to be the negotiator!

4. Do not make any type of threat. Threats lead to escalation, which could lead to violence. Please do your absolute best to stifle any aggressive rhetoric. As you know, the legacy media will be present and will use this as ammunition against our movement. Their business model is built on a strategy of destroying reputations. Do not help them profit from destroying your reputation.

If we keep calm and show love and support for one another, many things will happen. We will eventually cause the government to reverse its policy on Covid passports and vaccine mandates as the UK has recently done. We will meet new friends, develop relationships, and there will likely be people who meet during this peaceful protest and fall in love and build a life together. Let's not sacrifice such a bright future for all of us by losing our temper.

This is the first step in a long journey to a new golden age of freedom and understanding for one another. Let's build that future together.

I was told they won't be letting big rigs in tomorrow. No clue if it's true 😭 drove back from Ottawa today and just finished packing up and filling up the truck just in case headed down shortly. Can anyone confirm they will be allowing big rigs in?

Message to Ottawa and Toronto unions:

Doctors, nurses and Healthcare workers organising counter protest in Toronto. Why the shameful silence from NDP, OFL, Toronto and Ottawa Labour Councils and union leaders ?

JOIN HEALTH CARE WORKERS IN PROTECTING
ACCESS TO CARE FOR TORONTONIANS

MEET IN KING'S COLLEGE CIRCLE AT THE MEDICAL SCIENCES BUILDING AT 12 NOON

We are concerned doctors, nurses and other health care workers who have watched with shock the gridlock in Ottawa in recent days. A similar protest against government policy is being brought to the streets of Toronto this Saturday, February 5. We want to ensure that health care services remain available to anyone who needs them and to defend the right of health care workers to show up for work in their hospitals and clinics free of harassment. We want to keep our streets open so that sick people can safely get the help they want and to reassure them that health care workers stand with them.

A group of health care providers has organized to establish a street presence during the convoy protest in Toronto. Our singular message is that access to health care should never be compromised.

ALL CONCERNED TORONTONIANS ARE WELCOME.

WE ASK THAT HEALTH CARE WORKERS WEAR WHITE COATS OR GREENS AND THAT EVERYONE WEAR MASKS

Examples of slogans for placards are:

- Treatment not trucks
- Health not honking
- Occupational therapy not occupying streets
- Births not bullying
- Therapy not threats
- Vaccines not vitriol
- Proud to be a (fill in nurse, physiotherapist, doctor etc)
- We refuse to sneak into our hospitals
- Access to Care Should Never be Compromised

The organizers below will guide the movements of our rally.

Please join us

Philip Berger	Andrew Boozary
Naheed Dosani	Meb Rashid
Angela Robertson	Birgit Umaigba
Raghu Venugopal	Vanessa Wright

Counter protest has been planned for Kings College Circle at noon. The plan is to “establish a street presence” during the convoy protest.

COUNTER-PROTEST: 12PM at U of T (in front of the Medical Sciences Building)

CONTACT: Maral at 647 289 1448

This Saturday the anti-vax convoy is coming to Queen's Park to protest vaccine mandates. They will likely harass nurses and blockade ambulance routes as part of their protest. Events in Ottawa have shown what happens when these anti-vaxxers go unchallenged by the labour movement. In the last week these elements were greatly emboldened in the city and workers have reported many instances of facing harassment as a result.

Toronto healthcare workers are fighting back and organizing a counter-protest tomorrow.

Socialist Fightback is inviting our supporters to stand in solidarity with healthcare workers by attending and strengthening their counter-protest.

We are meeting at 11 AM at U of T in front of the "University College" building to collectively discuss our approach and head over to the counter-protest together.

So I went to the truckers convoy protest at queens park in Toronto today (to film, not in support). Although they're not as hostile as the media makes it seem, there are many that were quite unfriendly. Many seemed to be in support of these racist flags.

My friend and I got yelled at multiple times to "take off our masks" and a bunch of guys from the protest went over to the counter-protest side to harass an elderly couple holding up posters. Not a single person was wearing a mask in the main protests.
